

Red Panda poem!

The red panda is an herbivore,
You don't see many anymore,
That means he doesn't eat meat,
He has 4 claws on his feet,
Their average lifespan is 8 years,
They do not have any tears,
They are 32 to 46 inches long,
They would not compare with King Kong.

They are often found in the eastern part of the world,
Their tail is lovely and curled,
In the midlands of china,
They are a good climber,
In the northlands of Burma,
The males are much firmer,
And the grand mountains of Nepal,
They can swim in a big pool.

Red pandas eat bamboo,
There's not many left, in fact there's only a few,
They eat fruit off the trees,
They like to feel the breeze,
They like to eat eggs and mushrooms,
The forest is there bedroom.

They are endangered, I'm sure that you have heard!
We need to do what we can for the red pandas so they don't get scared.
